Never Too Late: Stories of Faith, Hope and Love Arlene Sikorski

"Allow me to introduce you to some of my dear friends." So begins this little book; a collection of true stories of those who live, work, and volunteer in nursing homes and assisted living communities. You will meet nursing assistants and a neurologist, pastors and a professor, grandmothers and grandchildren. With sensitivity and compassion, Arlene brings our attention to people who are often overlooked and unrecognized, yet their stories have powerful lessons for us. She tells of her own struggle as a caregiver to her beloved father during his many years with dementia. May this book encourage all who read it to hold on to your faith and hope in the midst of your difficult journeys. "Prepare to be blessed. In a few short stories, Arlene has captured the essence of nursing home ministry. The characters and situations in these stories are representative of the lives of residents and caregivers in the thousands of care homes of this nation."

~Chaplain Bill Goodrich
