What if church was a verb?

The ReThink Church movement of The United Methodist Church challenges us to live the message of Jesus beyond the church walls. It is a movement that requires action for all involved in the church. It is a movement that also focuses on changing the way those outside the church view us by inviting them into a conversation about faith and their expectations of church.

The ReThink Church brochure is available for churches to provide to their memberships. It is designed to offer ideas on how individual members can take part in the movement. Because of its small size it can easily be distributed to congregations through church bulletins and newsletters.
