More than just standard biographies, these informative, fun, and fact-filled books focus on behind-the-scenes insight into the struggles and joys of being part of a famous family. How do these children and siblings of celebrities make their own way in the wake of the difficult tasks of growing up, honing one's talents, and forging their own path to fame and independence? Is the love, support, shared passion, and drive common in these families the inspiration to success? These wonderfully illustrated, easy-to-read titles illustrate how essential a loving and supportive family is in nurturing a young person's ability to follow his or her dreams. Each title is easily accessible for high/low readers. As the child of one of the most famous singers in history, Stella McCartney has become a world-renowned fashion designer, named Vogue Designer of the Year in 2000. This book shows the importance of families honoring and supporting the decisions and wishes of their members in seeking their own way in the world. It includes the story of the Beatles' rise to superstardom and discusses Stella's road to fame, where she insists on being judged on her own talents.
