Fertility Decline in Developing Countries, 1960-1997: An Annotated Bibliography (Bibliographies and Indexes in Geography) Samuel Agyei-Mensah

With the emergence of fertility declines in the greater part of the developing world, study of the phenomenon has increased profoundly over the last three decades, and a voluminous amount of literature has emerged. Yet our knowledge of the decline is scattered in numerous publications, making sources difficult to find. This bibliography provides a guide to the literature on fertility decline in Latin America, Asia, and Sub-Saharan Africa. It will be an invaluable asset for population experts and students wishing to do research on fertility decline.

Covering the literature from 1960 to 1997, the book draws on extensive sources including books, articles in leading population journals, research papers, and dissertations. The opening chapter covers the literature on theories and concepts underlying fertility decline. The next three chapters are devoted to the major geographical areas?Latin America, Asia, and Sub-Saharan Africa?and the final chapter looks at general literature on fertility declines in developing countries.
