Losing a sibling is a heartbreak that leaves a hole in the fabric of every family. Facing a challenging journey no less tumultuous, the anguished needs of the surviving siblings are often cast into the shadows behind the bereaved parents. Struggling through such emotions can be isolating and devastating. While each loss is as unique as one's own fingerprint, and grief tools aren't one-size-fits-all, it's important to know you are not alone. This book is like your own portable support group, open 24/7. It offers an intimate collection of stories by people around the world who have all walked in your shoes. Consider this book one of your bereavement tools, and pull it out whenever you need. For no matter the age, the circumstance, or number of days since your sibling died, the stories contained within this book offer company, comfort and hope, and are a treasured reminder that none of us walk this journey alone.
